Work Experience

Director

Lightyear Hosting - Portishead

February 2017 to Present

As the Founder and Director of Lightyear Hosting in Portishead, England, I've successfully transitioned the business to operate autonomously, relieving my direct involvement. My initial responsibilities included overseeing strategy, operations, and business development, ensuring Lightyear Hosting's reputation as a reliable web hosting provider. Specialising in high-performance websites, I've contributed expertise in content marketing, keyword research, and SEO, optimising visibility on platforms like Google.

Legal Aid agent

Ministry of Justice UK - Clevedon

April 2014 to September 2017

Working on behalf of the ministerial department of the British Government headed by the Secretary of State for Justice. Processing legal claims and disputes, collecting and processing case file information (data collection and data entry), performing eligibility tests (means tests) and directing individuals to legal representation when appropriate.
